Château Bon Baron grows 14 different types of grape in its vineyard, located between Namur and Dinant.

The 17 hectares estate grows 14 different species of grapes. These are used to make 3 types of wine (white, red, sparkling) with an organic, close to nature approach.

Some of these wines have received the controlled designation "Côte de Sambre et Meuse" or "Crémant de Wallonie", of which the owners are quite proud.

Château Bon Baron is the first Belgian vineyard to obtain the FAIR'N GREEN label, an international certification encouraging winegrowers and supporting their sustainable objectives. They currently certify 130 wine estates in Europe.

Visiting the vineyard

Jeannette van der Steen, a passionate winemaker, offers several options:

- visit to the vineyard and vat room, followed by a tasting (in groups or individually)
- Masterclass
- Meal featuring Wallon products
