The medieval city of Enghien, at the edge of the Eastern part of the Hainaut region, is proud of a superb 182 hectares park, considered major cultural heritage of Wallonia. Its themed gardens, water structures, historical buildings and audio-guided trails are sure to enchant children and adults alike.

The park

Visitors can admire there a stunning example of landscape architecture, playing both with geometry and perspective, floral art and water engineering. These themed gardens, sprinkled a wonderful selection of artworks, also feature water jets for added magic.

Visiting the park

Your visit starts with an audio-visual multimedia show. The latter allows you to dive into the history of European parks and gardens in Enghien thanks to modern projection techniques and travel 400 years back through time to discover the beauty of past gardens.

At the end of the show, 3 themed trails will take you through the Enghien estate (audio guide). Choose from:

- The Nature trail: an ecological and botanical route
- The Park trail: the history of the park will be revealed through its many historical buildings
- The Garden trail: discover the castle and its rose, dahlia and flower gardens
